(b) Yes, Sir. The ICDS Scheme engisages the Anganwadi Workers (AWWs) and Anganwadi Helpers (AWHs) as honorary workers selected from local community who come forward to render their services, on part-time basis, in Anganwadi Centres. They are grassroots functionaries to implement the ICDS scheme. Being honorary workers, they are paid a monthly honoraria as decided by the Government from time to time.

(c) In recognition of the services being discharged by them, the Government has extended the following benefits:-

* Honorarium doubled in the year 2002, to Rs. 1000/- per month for AWWs & Rs. 500/- for AWHs.

* Allowed paid absence on maternity at par with women employees of organized sector.

* The GoI has introduced Anganwadi Bima Yojana w.e.f. 1.4.2004 under Life Insurance Corporation's Social Security Scheme.

* In order to motivate AWWs and give recognition to good voluntary work, a scheme of award for AWWs has been introduced both at the national and State level. The award comprises Rs. 25000/- cash and citation at centre level and Rs. 5000/- cash and citation at State level.

Apart from the above, many State Governments are giving monetary benefits to AWWs/AWHs out of their own resources for extra work being done by them under other than ICDS Scheme.

State Governments have also been requested to:-

* Consider services rendered by AWWs as additional qualifications for recruitment as Primary School Teachers, ANMs & other such village based posts.

* Recruit at least 25% of supervisors under ICDS Scheme from matriculate AWWs with 10 years' experience.

* Set up AWWs & Helpers Welfare Fund at the State/UT level out of the contributions from AWWs/AWHs & State/UT Governments.

Set up Grievance Redressal Machinery at the State/UT level & Distt. Level for prompt redressal of grievances.

(d) and (e) No, Sir. In view of their honorary status under the Scheme, it would not be feasible to treat them as Government employees.
